From Italie, Germanie, &c.

From Rome, the 21 May. 1622.

HE commander Moun-
four De Sallery the new French Ambassador did
arriue here last thursday,
and was with great state
and Pompe enterrayned.

From Naples we heare that 60. persons are taken prisoners, of them that vould throwe stones at the Viceroy, when he did ride in his Coach with Count Montery, and the Vice-Roy afore said hath confined vp-on the Gallies three Bakers, having baked browne and small loaues. And their were dispacht fīue postes, with command to gather in the old coynes by waighte, and the leavening off men was differred.

From hence is sent a post vnto Don Pedro Aldobrandino in Germanie, with charge to license the soulders as yet entertayned, being made ouer at Collen 30. thousand crownes for their pay. The Pope is resolved to assist the Emperour and the Catholikes with ayde, to maintayne the warlike forces, having Don Pedro aforesayd gotten a new Commission in the Bishopprick of Elsas.

From Venice the 27. May.

This Sigenourie causes a new, cerryne Gallies to be set forth, to accompany the new Gallion called Terre di Mare towards the Fleete; in Candia it is commanded to keepe the gallies ready, and out of the store house is the Iseland Lepanto prouided with great store of warlike prouision.

At Mylane they aduise daily by what meanes possible they may bring againe to obedience the Tenne confederated Grisons; sending dayly forces vnto them, the treatie betwixt Sauoy & Mantua is broke off without any hope of good successe.

They aduise from Turine that the Duke of 3

of Sauoy was come backe from Riueli and had dispatch diuers posts to France, Venice, and Mounfier la Diguere, to what effect is not yet knowne, the said La Diguere, hath ready in the Delphinat 12. thousand foote and 8000. horse.

Letters from Constantinople relate, that the great Turke made great preperation for warre, and that the forces are kept in readinesse, the like was commanded vnto
the garrisons in Hungaria, hauing the Bassa charge to assist the Lord Budiani vvith all his power; the Naue is gone to Sea, but vvhether is not yet knowvne.

From Langen Salzh the 16. dito.

Two dayes agoe the Duke of Saxoney
Elect, with certaine hundreth of Horse,
and one company on foote, with ten peeces of Ordnance did arriue here, the next day after, certaine companies of foote with a stronge convoy of horse came by heere, and went towards the Land VVeering at Mulhausen, and dayly more horse and foote follow them, and their are also a thousand

Cuir-

Cuirassiers marching being sent by the gentic, part of them are already here about arriued, so that the aforesaid Elector provides for his frontiers, and putts good gar-risons therein. At the last Dyet of the Bishoppricks of Meisen, Mersenburgh & Naumburgh, are three of the aforesaid Dukes sonnes chosen to be Administrators of them seuerally, so that these Bishoppricks are provided with Lords in time of necessities.

Certaynes dayes agoe, their arriued in these parts Ambassadors from Denmarke, Braudenburgh, Pomeron, Culembach and Dy-senach, and were with his Highnes. This morning the said Duke went towards the Frontiers towards Erfirt, to provide their for all manner of necessitie, sending Attillarie and souldiers thether to lye in garri-son, and there came 12. Waggon with munition, and certaine peeces of Ordnance hether from Lypsch.

From Vienna the 1. of Iunne.

Concerning the Dyet in Hungary, vve

We haue aduice that his Emperiall Maiestie did stay in Odenburgh, and the 26. of Maie he caused the States there present to meete, making his proposition in the Latine tongue vnto them, and caused them greatly to reioyce, and deliuered the same afterwards in writing vnto them: the Bishop of Gran promised in the name of the States, that they would consult vpon the same. And is concluded already, halfe Germany and halfe Hungarian garrisons to lay in the fortes and strong holdes; The diet prospers so well, that wee hope his Maiesty will be here ere long.

Bethlem Gabr is not at Odenburgh, hauing bene called backe from his iourney,
his Lady being decessed: But the Lord
Budeani was to meete there. The Hungarians likewise haue further consented to let goe 100000. cattell out of their Coun-trei, vpon condition that they shall bee
payd with good mony as in former time.

This day is arriued heere an Ambassadour from the King of Denmarke, but his Maiesty being departed, went from Oden-

burgh,

burgh, where he had audience by his Maiestie; and being come backe, related that his Imperial Maiefty would deuise means to bring the Empire to peace, because that those that were quiet might not be disturbed. The successe Time will reueale.

From Prague the second day.

Heere are daily celebrated in great state and pompe the Processions, being followed by diuers Orders.

From Glatz wee heare, that they haue
surprized Niower, climbing ouer the walles by night, and slew the garrison, amongst whom was a company of horse and their Commaunder, and hauing pillaged it, and set it on fire.

Glatz should be besieged, but they goe
slowly on that lie thereabout, and stand in great doubt. Klingenbergh is besieged,
but will not surrender, make many sallies,
and doe great hurt: the garrisons of Faber
and Bridis are sent thither already.

From

From Laußnitz the third day.

They haue written yesterday from the city of Zitta, that it had rained there brimstone, which did giue, not onely an euill smell, but it kindled and burned likewise as other brimstone. We vnderstand also, that diuers times in the night, did come two fierie horse-men before the citty, at whose approach all the Gates opened, being followed by a whole Army of horse and foete, and comming vpon the market place, vanished quite away.

From Wirtzburg the eight day.

Monday last we heare marcht through this city 12000. foete and 1000. horse of the Emperors forces, being conducted by the General Verdugo, they haue a great train after them, & many horse take their way towards Meningen, against them of Haluerstat, who march towards Rottenburgh: to morrow should follow them yet certaine thousands, and are ioyned with them also certain thousands of our trained men, with 9. peeces of ordnance, and beside these we keep yet certain thousands of trained men in the country.

From great Geraw the tenth day.

The Landgraue Lodowicke of Darmstat is with the Marquesse of Dourlach at Darmstat, where are both the Armies of Mansfelt, which lie here about, following in his Coach the Campe, accompanied with his sonne.

From Frankfort the twelfth day.

The army of Mansfelt is Thursday last departed from great Geraw, and marched towards Manheim, to what intent is not knowne. The Landgraue is still in the armie. Tilley in the meane time makes himselfe very strong, a great number of his forces being arriued about Darmstat, haue had many skirmishes with Mansfelts forces. The Duke Christian of Brunswicke did arriue last night at Nidda, belonging vnto the Landgraue of Hessen, and is but foure Dutch miles from hence, and came this night neere this cittie, being seene already diuers of his forces; and it is likely some stratastratagems will be set on foote ere long, but in the meane time the countries hereabout are indifferently mightily spoyled and ruinated. We haue likewise now certaine newes, that the Baron of Anholt is ioyned with Monsieur Tilley, and is about Zumgenbergh.

From Collen the 14. day.

Yesterday was reported here, that in the dominion of the Landgrae of Darmstat, had beene diuers and great skirmishes betwixt Mansfelt and the Spanish forces, and that Mansfelt had gotten a great overthrow. But this day wee are aduertised from Ments and thereabouts, that there haue beene great knockes giuen, but that Mansfelt had obtained the victorie; and after the same transported his forces ouer the Rheine, which caused no small feare to those of Ments. Wee doe vnderstand likewise, that the Duke Christian of Brunswicke is to ioync with Mansfelt. The effects will be knowne heereafter.

From Mastricht wee vnderstand, that the Spanish forces haue their rendezvous there and at Diest, and wee appoynted there likewise the forces in Flanders, as amongst them those that lay before Sluice, beeing the Forts and Skonces beset with Countrey people, and should daily more be leuyed of them for the defence of the countrey. But whether the Spanish forces are to march, is not yet knowne. They would faine haue put in Sherwghenbosch an hundred men more, but that the Citizens would not receiue them.

From Wesel the 15. day.

Count Henric of the Bergh, is with his forces yet here about, and looks for more ayde. Count Henry Fredericke of Nassau, is arriued at Ennricke, and do likewise daily there, and at Rees diuers horse and foot come, to what intent is vnknowne to vs.

In Zealand are certaine shippes landed, comming from England with souldiers to bee dispersed amongst the English Regiments in those Prouinces.

There is brought in a good prize heere, and other also at Amsterdam and Duchwyssen, and

and wee are likely to haue daily more and more, in regard of the ships abroad.

The two Pyrats of Dunkerke haue saued themselves in a Port of Scotland, but our men of warre lay in wait for them.

From Venice the third of June 1622. Is written from Naples, that those that haue caused lately the Commotion, are dayly clapt vp, and that the Marquesse de Terrico did leuy a Regiment for Milaine.

Letters the 16. of Maie from Constantinople do declare, that the great Turke, vnder colour to visit the sepulchre or tombe of Mahomet, intendeth to make a notable attempt against the Christians, being his navy foure score saile strong, bound vnto Archipelago, to ioine with the Gallies of Rhodes; likewise were diuers other Gallies sent towards the Blacke Sea, against the Gossacks, seeing that notwithstanding the peace concluded with Polonia, they did robbe in the aforesaid Sea, which likely wil cause the warre to be renewed against the said Kingdome.

From Milaine wee understand, that the gouer-

gouvernor hath published a proclamation whereby all those that haue borne any office since the yere 1592. are commāded (vpon life) to giue notice of their goods, and rents, & to shew how they haue gotten the same.

Wee are aduised from Bundten, that the confederated haue recouerd Mayeuels, and besieged Chur, and that there is made preparation to rescue the same; at the other side, those of Zurich, Basil & Barne haue sent ayde vnto the confederated aforesayd.

The 13. Cantons of Swisserland haue also sent an Ambassador to the Arch-duke Leopoldus, to know his resolution, whether hee will surrender the Veltolines and other places taken; and in case of denyall they will assist them.

From Breslaw in Silecia the second day.

The country of Oppelen a general assembly there being made to inuest the brother of Bethlem Gabor, was inuaded by five thousand Cosacks, which haue done great hurt by pillaging, robbing & burning, & 5000 more are coming; resolved to trauele to Glatz through Silecia. Two

Two dayes agoe are sent from hence towards Glatz certaine Waggon with munition, and two peices of Ordinance, every one of them drawne by an 100. Horse, which being not strong enough, they were enforced to send for more. The Bishop of Ments will be at the siege himselfe, and will be inquartered with his Forces at Franckensteyn. Here is Newes likewise, that the old Count of Thurn is marching with 6000. Wallaches, and 30000. Turkes and Tartars to rescue the Cittie of Glatz.

From Vienna the 8. of Iune. His Imperiall Maiestie is yet at Odenburgh, and the States of Hungary consult daily about his Propositions. The Lord Stensell Thurso is elected and sworne Palatine of Hungaria.

The States of Hungaria will not suffer by any meanes that the Iesuits shall possesse any goods in the Kingdome.

Bethlem Gabor hath sent his Ambassadour to the Dyete, but consults not with the States, and hath sent a faire Turkie Horse, with rich furniture vnto the Emperour for a present.

The Lord Budiani hath likewise sent his Ambassadour, but he stands very firme to his Propositions. But neverthelesse they hope, that the Dyete will soone come to take a happy end.

The Ambassadour of Denmarke it seemes hath no other charge but to exhort the Emperour, that he will be pleased to appease the Empire; it is thought that he shall be soone dispart.

From Prague the 9. of June. From Glatz we heare, that their Garrison hath slaine divers Companies of horse of the Count of Lichtenstein in a Sallie, whereupon are sent from hence certaine Waggones with Munition, and 6. Pieces of Ordinance, to take effectually the siege in hand.

In the meane time, haue those of Glatz ioyned with their Forces the 6000. revolted Moores, and having armed the same, haue taken lately a Towne, called Winschelburgh, beset with five Companies, which were almost all slaine or taken. And the old Count of Thurn is marching with great Forces to rescue Glatz aforesaid.

Those

Those of Klügenbergh stand yet brauely out, and lately assaulting their enemies, haue killed many in their sconces, and pulled them downe, returning with one of their Colours.

Sunday last is here Proclaimed and published, that all the debtors of those that haue left the Country, as of the executed and arrested persons, shall make knowne vpon great penaltie vnto the Commissioners, thereunto appointed, what they owe them, and pay afterwards at a certaine time the same.

This next Sunday are the Catholiques to take the Church of the Suffits in the little Towne for their owne vse.

From Leipsich the 12. of Iune. The Duke of Saxen Elector is as yet at Langensaltz. The Generall Wolfe of Mansfelt, marches vp to morrow with the red and yellow regiment, and 500. horse, towards Düringen; whereupon the Country people shall returne home againe.

From Franckford the 16. of Iune. In the last Skirmish betwixt the Spanish forces, and them of Mansfelt, are on both sides slaine about 1000. men. The Counts horses being not seconded in time by his foote, did retreat without disorder. On the Spanish side, besides the Baron of Bussy, are divers great officers killed. But they have taken prisoner the yong Palsgraue of Birkenvelt with certaine officers.

Hereupon are the Spanish marched on with resolution, to lay a bridge over the Mayne, betwixt Hannaw and Steinheim, to cut off the passage of the Duke of Brunswicke, but vnderstanding how strong he was, and not farre from thence, haue taken vp their bridge, being almost halfe finished, and in-quarterd themselues about Eberstadt, and there-about in the dominions of the Landt-graue of Darmstadt.

This last night about ten a Clocke are some of the Forces of Brunswicke arrived at Hensl (belonging vnto the Bishop of Ments) being conducted by Kniphowsen, discharging presently their Ordinance against it; they lye yet there: and neere the Towne is seene a great fire, to what purpose we know know not yet. Many of his Commaunders are in this Cittie, being all the Inns most taken vp, we are likewise to heare shortly of some notable attempt.

From Cullen, the 18. of Iune, wee haue but little or no newes to write at this present, the newes of Ments, is not so good as wee did write at first, becing a great number of eminent Officers sent thither and buried.

From Westphalia, we heare that the Spanish forces, were marched towards Laps-stadt, and demaunded great summes of money of the Towne besides 7. men. Other say that they haue besieged Raven-spurgh, the certaintie you shall haue by the next.

From Franckfort, the 19. of Iune, Thursday last, being the 16. of this moneth, are certaine hundreth men come out of the cheefe quarter of the Duke of Brunswick, to summon the Towne of Hensl, but they haue defended themselves brauely, doing great hurt with their shot, but being summoned the third time, and denying nying to surrender the Towne, there were sent great forces to take it, which the besieged espying, and that there was no succour at hand, they haue abandoned the Towne and Castle, flying all that could ouer the River of Maine: whereupon the forces of Brunswicke taking it, slue all the Souldiers they could meete withall. And the sayde Duke is at this present vpon the Castle.

The same Euening, about 9. of the clocke, are the Cheife Licutenant Paep, the Captaine of a troupe of horse called Coert, and the Lieutenant of Ercklens with 120. horse of the Duke aforesayd, passed the Maine at Twineckheim, and mette on Fryday, about 4. a clocke in the Morning, a Company of foote of their Enemies, which they haue assaulted and defeated, taking 70. prisoners,

Yesterday, is the whole Bavarian Armie scene neere this Cittie, and did lie all this night about the same, the vanguard, is of 30. Cornet of horse, amounting to 1500. and 3000. foote. Mansfeld comes comes here with his Armie likewise, so that it is likely, that shortly some blowes will be giuen.

There is come an English Ambassador to the Duke of Branswicke, to deale with him about a cessation of Armes, and they say that Monsieur Tilley, hath consented vnto the same.

The Landgraue Lodovic, of Darmstadt is sent to Mainheim, and his Sonne the yong Landgraue is here.

We vnderstand from France, that the King went on with his resolution, notwithstanding that many did goe about to agree the matter. Those of Rochell strengthen themselues dayly and fortifie the Cittie. We heare that the Count of Soissons, is neere vnto them, with tenne thousand men, but the Rochellers doe their best endeavour to keepe the Command of of the Sea. They haue receaved lately some English Souldiers but disarmed, some say 400. some but 180.

Heere is certaine newes that 5. Ships, arrived from the East Indies, of which two are

the Ballad of the Shipwrecked
That every noble Lady knows that the affairs and the lives were in good state, And that 5 Ships the last year being departed from home, were arrived at sea
in, within the space of four months and three days,
the like was never done by any of our Ships.
